

Purdue University Bands and Orchestras Student Data 2010-2011

Did you know band and orchestra members at Purdue earn higher GPAs compared to the rest of Purdue University?

During the most recent academic year, band and orchestra participants earned a collective GPA of 3.18. This exceeded the GPA of 2.89 earned by all undergraduate students at Purdue.

Did you know band and orchestra students earn more course credits than non-band students at Purdue?

The average number of course credits earned per semester is a vital measure of academic success for college students.

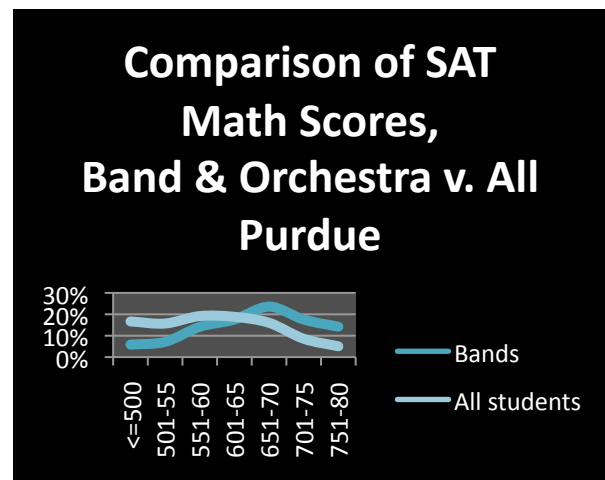

Band and orchestra students earn a higher average number of credits per semester than all undergraduate students. The average credits-per-semester for band and orchestra students in 2010-2011 was 16.7, compared to only 13.9 for all other students. The chart shows that 4 out of 5 students in band and orchestra successfully earn 15 or more credits per semester.

	Bands	Non-bands
Less than 12	7%	16%
12-14.5	14%	27%
15-17.5	43%	41%
18 or more	37%	16%

This is evidence that those who enroll in band and orchestra can be very successful despite the additional time commitment.

Are you aware that Band and Orchestra students come to Purdue with higher SAT scores than Purdue students overall?

SAT scores vary widely among students. But the distribution of SAT scores of band and orchestra students is markedly higher than the distribution of scores for all students. This is true of both verbal and math scores, as is shown in the following charts. (NB: ACT scores have been included, after being modified to an SAT equivalent.)

Did you know Band and Orchestra students are more likely to stay at Purdue University after their first year on campus?

Band and Orchestra student retention at Purdue (First to Second Year) is 94.2%. The University retention rate for all 1st year students is 90.2%(2010-2011 data)

Band and Orchestra students are also more likely to graduate from Purdue University in a timely fashion compared to the university average.
